

HEAVEN IN BUSINESS

Amsterdam, The Netherlands
30 nov. - 2 dec. 2017

'The true mothers and fathers of cities are business leaders. In the home the father sets the standard of love. The measure of sacrifice is set by the father. The mother carries the weight of the atmosphere for the home. When you have these two working together, it has a profound influence on the home. Now imagine a city. Who sets the standard? Who are the ones that really affect the attitude and the climate of entire communities? Typically, those who are considered to be the 'city fathers' are the key business people'

Bill Johnson

There is a powerful move of God going on right now in the marketplace and God is using people, especially those in business, to powerfully impact their communities and the nations.

It is with pleasure that we invite you to attend the first ever Heaven in Business conference in The Netherlands. Are you an entrepreneur or someone who works in business? This conference will help you to learn how to impact your community and bring God's supernatural influence and transforming power into the business community and your workplace.
